SHERMAN AND FORAKER.

THE CHAIRMAN OF THE REPURLICAN STATE COM-MITTEE AND THE FORAKER MEN-SENATOR BRICE TURNS UP-RECENT ACCESSIONS TO THE POPULATION CLAIMED TO BE DEMOCRATIC-THE PROSPECTS FROM A REPUBLICAN POINT OF VIEW.

pecial Dispatch to The Evening Star. COLUMBUS, OHIO, August 28.-While ex-Gov. Foraker and Senator Sherman maintain pleasant relations, enough crops out constantly as the hot campaign progresses to show that each is straining every nerve to secure the United States senatorship. A particularly vigorous contest was waged in the Ashland-Richland senatorial district to secure the nomination for Senator at the republican convention this week. The Foraker people were fortunate in securing for their candidate ex-State Senator Hildebrand, a pronounced Foraker man of long standing. He was easily able to secure the nomination. His popularity was so pronounced that the Sherman faction made no objection, and his nomination was made by acclamation Immediately after that was done, however. Dr. George Mitchell, chairman of the committee George Mitchell, chairman of the committee on resolutions, and a well-known friend of Senator Sherman, reported the platform, the principal feature of which pledged the nominee of the convention to the support of Senator Sherman for the United States Senate. This brought W. S. Capeller of Mansfield, who was state commissioner of railroads under Gov. Forsker and the confidential political manager of the ex-governor to his political manager of the ex-governor, to his feet in an impassioned speech. He compli-mented Senator Sherman and conceded that he merited all that was said in the resolution con-cerning him, but cited the convention to the fact that he had plainly criticised such actions on the part of state, county or district conven-tions. State Senator Kerr, however, an ardent Sherman man, followed Mr. Capeller in a glowng tribute to Senator Sherman and at the clos A Bellef That There Has Been Nothing

The conflict of the news, the absence of information at the State Department, and the general tone of the dispatches tend to the belief, which is current in official circles today, that the fight-ing, if any has occurred, has not produced any important results, but has been merely an engagement between small bodies of troops that the sensitive description. The State Department is stated in this correspondence some weeks ago concerning the feeling of Chairman Hahn in the senatorial fight and is taking prompt and vigorous steps to stop his work in the interests of Senator Sherman. The committee, as is well known, is composed almost entirely of gagement between small bodies of troops that control the work of the committee. It is be-lieved, however, that neither Gov. Foraker in the senatorial contest, but now that it has been discovered that it was being used in Senator Sherman's interests they will probably not hesitate to do a little of that kind of work themselves. Mr. Hahn has been approached by a number of Foraker's friends, who have plainly told him that he must not engage in the senatorial con-test in any way. There is also considerable test in any way. There is also considerable dissatisfaction with Mr. Hahn's method of condissatisfaction with air. Hann's meinou of con-ducting the campaign. The younger and more active leaders in the party complain that there is not enough vigor put into the campaign work, and no one need be surprised if Mr. Hahn withdraws from the chairmanship before the campaigu progresses much farther. One thing is certain, he is under strict surveillance, and unless he confines his committee work

HOW THE WORK WILL BE DIVIDED.

The fact that Senator Sherman devoted the whole of his opening speech at Paulding on Thursday to the silver question corroborates the statement published in The Star just after the consultation of republican leaders at Mansfield a month ago that ex-Gov. Foraker would discuss state issues, Mr. McKinley have charge of the tariff discussion, Mr. Sherman take the silver issue and Secretary Foster answer the billion dollar Congress charge. Gov. Foraker makes his first speech at the little town of Rio Grande in Gallie county on September 14. He said in a recent interview that he proposed to take a very active part in the Ohio campaign, and the committee is very anxious that he shall do so, as there is no speaker in Ohio so popular as he and none that draws the people, capecially the young people, as he does.

DB. BARNES MAY BE DEFORED.

The sentiment is unmistakable, though they coffine stood in front of the morgue this morning. On each was a plate with the inscription, "Died August 22, 1891," and the number of the box in which the corpse was placed after being taken from the Park lacer unins. The last identification was made last night. Mrs. Kate Barry came to the morgue and identified the body msrked No. 29 as that of her husband, Wm. Barry, thirty-five years old. It was shortly after 10:39 o'clock when thirteen hearses drove up to the gloomy building and the last awful reminders of the billion dollar Congress charge. Gov. Foraker would discuss state issue, Mr. Sherman take the said in a recent interview that he proposed to take a very active part in the Ohio campaign, and the "committee is very anxious that he shall do so, as there is no speaker in Ohio so popular as he and none that draws the people, especially the young people, as he does.

DB. BARNES MAY BE DEFOSED.

There is trouble in the management of the people's party and it seems likely that the chair of the box in which the number of

of the Piew and Hammer, the name of his paper, as the party device and thus obtained a little advertising for his newspaper. There is to be a meeting of the executive committee of the people's party here this week, when charges will be filed and considered, and it is likely that another gentleman will have charge of the people's party campaign. PORAKER'S FRIENDS CONFIDENT.

The friends of ex-Governor Foraker here confidently assert now that he already has within his grasp enough republican nominees to the general assembly to secure his election to the Senate should that body be republican. They say that in many of those counties which have not yet nominated candidates the ex-governor's "fences" are in such excellent shape that it would be impossible for any Sherman man to break over them. remainder of his present term, if the subtreasury alliance men control the legislature which will elect his successor, and in the light of recent developments it looks very much as though they will.

The growth of the subtreasury feature of the Ocala platform since the recent meetings of state conventions of the alliance in the southern states is astonishing. Six months ago the southern alliance men were very evenly divided on this question. Now they are practically first show that in the town of Belle River it caused great damage to corn fields and all on this question. Now they are practically united in its favor in many states—notably Virginia, North Carolina and Georgia—and the in-dications now point to a similar result of the controversy in this state, and this in spite of the fact that the two Tillman brothers (gov-ernor and Congressman) are waging a relent-less war against the subtreasury scheme, in which they are backed by Senator Butler. which they are backed by Senator Butler. AN ANTI-CLEVELAND DELEGATION PROBABLE.

Another fact is very apparent. The demo-ratic alliance men of this state, whether advocates or opponents of the subtreasury, are all opposed to the nomination of Mr. Cleveland, and do not hesitate to say that they will not vote for him if nominated. An anti-Cleveland delegation will probably be sent from South Carolina to the next national democratic convention. Gov. Ben Tillman, Congressman George D. Tillman and Senator Butler are on the stump now engaged in addressing the crowds at the

the Congressman, are of the red-hot-and-still-a-heating order and include the most scorch-ing arraignment of the alliance leaders yet at which he has been busily engaged for some ing arraignment of the alliance leaders yet made public. A speech which THE STAR correspondent heard him deliver in Edgefield county the other day contained these words, which are among the mildest in it:

"I knew Polk and Terrell and Macune well. I have met them and county the mildest in it:

have met them and sought interviews with them. They are a sorry set. The demon of ambithem. They are a sorry set. The demon of ambition is making Polk believe he can be nominated for President or become governor of North Carolina. Hence he has gone over to the subtreasury and is hobnobbing with the third party. He is as potter's clay in the hands of Machiavel Macune. He failed at everything until he bought a paper which another man had made a success."

Politics are decidedly of the torrid variety in this state just now and it is hard to predict what will happen next.

The Star correspondent had a conversation with Commissioner Kolb and President Adams of the state alliance. The third party scheme is not very strong in this state as yet. Commissioner Kolb said he was an alliance democrat and "could never be driven out of the democratic party."

The fossils of the Senate have kept the south in possession of the 'Constitution' while they provided the north with the money.

the state, led by the News and Observer of this city.

He has been charged with double dealing and traitorous conduct by the Sanderlin-Scarborough men in the election of Butler as the president of the North Carolina alliance, and many other serious charges have been preferred against him. It is said that his friends told him that unless he took some steps to disprove and resent these charges he could not hope to remain at the head of the national alliance.

Polk and Jere Simpson and Lecturer Willets spoke at Charlotte Wednesday night. The speeches are said to have been cheefy made up of reasons for the organization of a third party. State Auditor Sanderlin, who had such a narrow escape from death Thursday through a railroad accident, as telegraphed The Stan, continues his canvass for the governorship by delivering addresses at alliance gatherings throughout the state, where he is in great demand, notwithstanding Polk's opposition to him.

FROST IN THE WHEAT COUNTRY. Will Sustain Losses Through Dam age to the Crop.

Toronto, August 28.—Reports from the dominion observatory here say there were killing frosts in northwestern Manitoba Wednesds night, and other reports received show that much damage was done in the very choice of wheat-growing regions of Manitoba. A week ago farmers in the Canadian northwest were rejoicing over the prospect of having 20,000,000 bushels of wheat for export this year. Now they are in a very different frame of mind.

Chicago, August 28.—A special from St. Paul, Minn., says: Oliver Dairymple, North Dakota's great wheat grower, said here, on the condition of the crops, that he estimated up to yesterday that the frost had destroyed about one-seventh of the entire wheat and out crop in the Red river valley from Fargo to the British possessions. Last night's freeze would of course reduce the figures, and he feared that one-sixth of the crop would be destroyed. On the night of the first frost one-half of the wheat acreage had been untouched by the harvester.
